GERMANY'S ANSWER IS AVASIVE

Waits Two Weeks, Then Dodges a Direct Answer to Lusitania Note.

PRESIDENT WILL STAND PAT. Hint That We Are On Verge of Breaking off Diplomatic Relations.

Washington, May 31.—Germany's reply to the American note sent after the sinking of the Lusitania was delivered to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin Saturday. It does not specifically answer the American representations concerning the sinking of the liner, nor the demand for the discontinuance of submarine warfare on merchant vessels. These points are left for further negotiations. The Berlin note expresses regret for attacks on American vessels, which are said to have been unintentional. Compensation is offered in cases wherein Germany is shown to have been at fault. The note charges, as a basis of negotiations, that the Lusitania was a British naval auxiliary, carrying mounted guns as well as troops and munitions. The United States is asked what steps have been taken, if any, to induce Great Britain to depart from its policy of cutting off Germany's importations of food supplies.

The avasive nature of the reply has produced a feeling of profound disappointment here. Dissatisfaction at the failure of Germany to answer the demands of the United States was reflected in government circles generally.

There was little concealment anywhere that the answer from Berlin had produced a grave situation in the relations between United States and Germany.

The official text from Ambassador Gerard will be placed before the President early today. There will be a cabinet meeting Tuesday.

PROMPT ANSWER EXPECTED.

From a previous knowledge of President Wilson's position, it was generally predicted that a prompt answer would be sent to Berlin, perhaps within 24 to 48 hours. This is expected to give the American government understanding of the facts, that the Lusitania was unarmed and carried no concealed guns, that she sailed from the United States a peaceful merchantman, and that under all rules of international law and humanity, the vessel should have been visited and searched and her passengers transferred to a place of safety, whether she carried ammunition or not. American law does not prohibit ammunition from being carried on passenger ships, it will be asserted, but only self-exploding material, and liners in the past have been permitted to carry arms and ammunition by special ruling of the state department of the meaning of federal statutes.

Germany's failure even to discuss the reparation demanded by the American note and evasion of the request that guarantees be given that American vessels and lives be not endangered in the future are the main points, however, to which the United States government, it was generally believed, would advert in the second note. The expression of regret and offers of reparation for unintentional attacks on neutral ships are expected to have little weight in determining the nature of the response of the United States. When the note of May 13, was sent it was pointed out that such promises did not remove the risks to which American vessels and lives were subjected—and to support this contention, the United States will add, it is said, that the American steamer Nebraska was torpedoed without warning within the last few days.

DR. TUPPER PREACHED

At The Baptist Church Sunday Night and Chautauqua Musicians Sang.

SEN. LAFOLLETTE LAST NIGHT

Closed a Successful Week For The Alkahest Chautauqua.

The Alkahest Chautauqua closed its week's engagement here last night with an address by Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, on the Problems of the Day. The program of the entire day Monday was one of the best of the week. The crowd last night to hear the distinguished statesman of national reputation was the largest of the six days.

There was no Sunday program this year. On Sunday night Rev. Dr. Tupper, the manager, who is a Baptist minister, preached a powerful sermon at the First Baptist Church, on the subject: "Jesus of Nazareth went about doing good."

The church was filled to its capacity and a delightful musical program was rendered by the Metropolitan Quartette who sang two hymns, and by the local quartette, Messrs. White and Trice and Misses Espie and Miller.

Two of the Chautauqua musicians also sang solos.

The chautauqua was instrumental in bringing to Hopkinsville some high class music and some high class lecturers. It has been well said that the chautauqua with all that it stands for of culture and moral and mental uplift is a purely American institution.

When the early chautauqua movement was started by Bishop John H. Vincent and Lewis Miller over 40 years ago they could not have dreamed that the short season they planned for religious study and conference would have developed into the magnificent New York chautauqua, with its beautiful surrounding, its 60-day season, and hundreds of teachers and speakers, and the allied course of home study. But great as are these results, a development of more value is the circuit chautauqua, which may be called the people's university.

Through this plan comparatively small towns may have the benefit of a chautauqua season at a small cost. On its platform are heard the foremost thinkers of the country; men who stand for lofty ideas and signal achievements. Through them the principles of politics, civics, humanitarianism, science and art are brought to the people in a way that cannot but be inspiring, and leave some desire in the heart of the adult and still more in the heart of the youth to be something, to do something worth while in a world of action.

United States will answer Germany's requests for facts with a restatement of the circumstances as recited in the American note of May 13, the promptness with which the reply will be dispatched is counted upon to serve as an indication that the American government wishes an early answer and does not desire to engage in a protracted diplomatic discussion.

Persons close to President Wilson have learned that he is determined to obtain reparation for the Lusitania victims and assurances of respect for American rights in future, and that failing in this, he would not hesitate to sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

In German quarters here, it was again reiterated that the Lusitania was armed.

To controvert this, the United States has proof gathered before the American note was sent that there were no guns aboard. Furthermore, the British government entered into an informal agreement with the United States early in the war to see that no British vessels left American ports armed.

BIG BUNCH NOTABLES

Will Be Here Thursday With The Morgan Excursionists.

GREAT TIME IN PROSPECT.

Automobile Trip Over South Christian And Barbecue At Noon.

An imposing array of state and government officials will be members of the party of central and eastern Kentucky farmers and farm demonstrators who will visit Warren and Christian counties next Thursday. Geoffrey Morgan, now state agent for the farmers' co-operative demonstration work, is the man who first suggested the trip.

Among the notables will be Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Karl Krooman and Bradford Knapp, demonstrator of farm work also the following state officials: President Henry S. Barker, of state university; Dr. Fred Mutchler, director of farm extension work; Prof. George Roberts, state agronomist; Prof. C. W. Mathews head of horticultural department; Prof. E. C. Goode, head of the animal husbandry department; Dr. Robert Graham, state veterinarian; Dr. H. K. Wright, assistant state veterinarian; Hon. J. W. Newman, commissioner of agriculture; Dr. F. W. Musselman, state veterinarian; Dr. J. G. Crabbe, president of Eastern normal school; Prof. J. H. Pullen, head of the agricultural department of eastern normal school; Geoffrey Morgan, state agent for the co-operate farm demonstration work.

The visiting farmers and agricultural agents from all over Kentucky will be here Thursday morning early and will be taken to Hotel Latham for breakfast. After breakfast the entire party and the guides from the Business Men's Organization, will traverse a large part of the county in 100 or more automobiles and return at noon to a great free barbecue at the grounds of the Pennyroyal Fair. There will be no admission charged and a great crowd is expected. There will be a speaking program at the fair grounds. In the afternoon there will be another inspection trip to the country, returning to W. R. Brumfield's to a strawberry supper. Then back to town and a park meeting after supper.

Geoffrey Morgan will bring with him 138 Bluegrass visitors and fully as many have accepted invitations from the local committee. At least 200 guides will go with the visitors to explain the points of interest.

The itinerary for the forenoon will be out Nashville pike to Bradshaw road, thence to the Holland place, thence across to Tobacco road, thence to J. J. Garrett's, thence through Garrett and Pendleton farms, crossing Bradshaw road, by F. B. Lacy's and Richard Leavell's to Bolivar on Clarksville pike, down pike to Clardy highway, south of Oak Grove, thence by highway to Bell's station, returning between the farms of Jno. W. Garnett and Howard Brame to Miller's road, thence by Clarksville pike to city and fair grounds. After dinner will go out Cox Mill road, and return by Canton pike, going through farms of E. D. Jones, A. M. Henry, R. H. McGaughey and others.

Chairman L. H. Davis, of the Transportation Committee, has 93 cars promised, but wants at least 25 more, as the number of visitors will be larger than previously reported. Those who have donated cars so far are:

S. T. Ashmore, J. M. Adams, Chas. D. Adams, Dr. T. P. Allen, W. B. Anderson, John H. Bell, Douglas Bell, Dr. Manning Brown, J. W. Brown, Dr. J. L. Barker, Dr. T. W. BIG BATTLE RAGING IN THE EAST

Teutonic Allies Are Making Supreme Efforts to Capture Przemysl.

PROGRESS HAS BEEN SLOW

French Report Occupation of German Trenches Along Yser Canal.

London, May, 31.—Around the great fortress of Przemyśl a mighty battle is still raging. The Austro-German armies are making a supreme effort to cut off the strong-hold and free these armies for operations against Italy and the allies in the west.

Although great human sacrifices are being made, progress latterly has been extremely slow, as the Russians have had time to bring up large reinforcements.

North of Przemyśl the Russians appear to be more than holding their own, but to the southeast the Austrians and Germans claim further headway and now command with their artillery the railway between Przemyśl and Grodek. From Lemberg the Russians draw a large portion of their reinforcements and supplies.

The battle is still undecided and hopes run high in the allied camps that the Russians can hold their lines until the advance of the Italians and the strengthening of the Anglo-French armies compel the Germans to withdraw part of their armies from Galicia.

In the west there has been considerable fighting along the Yser canal, where the French report the occupation of German trenches, and in the vicinity of Neuville St. Vaast, where the French advanced about a quarter of a mile.

The German official statements say that after a ten-hour artillery attack east of the Yser canal the allies were repulsed.

The steamer Tullochmoor has been sunk by a German submarine, while considerable alarm was caused Sunday by a report that the White Star liner Megantic, bound from Liverpool for Montreal, with many passengers aboard, was being chased. The liner, however, escaped.

Height of Fanaticism.

Mr. McCaskey, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, is charged in the Frankfort Courier with the statement, that "we would rather see a 'dry' Republican in the United States Senate than a 'wet' Democrat." Since prohibition is not a cardinal tenet of the political faith of the Kentucky Democracy, nor of our grand old President, it seems rather strange that a candidate who is seeking the suffrage of the people should be based upon a single issue, on which opinions of just as good men as he differ.

The thrust is plainly aimed at Senator James, who, though a local optionist, refuses to stand for the statewide propaganda. Mr. McCaskey and his crowd would overturn the young giant who has been the strong right arm of the President from the time he went into the Senate until the present good hour, and install in his place a Republican in order to carry out his plans.

This may suit Mr. McCaskey's wishes, but we don't believe the Democrats of Kentucky are willing to following him in his new crusade. —Bowling Green Messenger.

The German submarine menace is bringing officials to realize the great danger facing England if Germany increases largely the number of her under-sea craft. This has been impressed on the British mind by the success of submarines operating in the Dardanelles, their ever-increasing activity around the British Isles and the threat to carry this form of warfare to the Suez canal and trade which passes through that waterway. Friday came reports of the sinking of the British steamers Cadeby and Spennymoor and the Swedish bark M. Kjosvall, and a statement that a big liner Argylshire was chased and fired on by an under-sea boat but escaped to Havre.

President Wilson has decided to serve notice on the warring factions in Mexico that conditions in that country have become intolerable and that unless they themselves, compose the situation soon, some other means may have to be employed to accomplish the result. The first intimation of the President's determination to take this step came in his appeal issued as head of the American Red Cross, setting forth that "due to several years of internal disturbances the unfortunate people of many parts of Mexico have been reduced to the verge of starvation," and urging contributions to be relief funds. This statement has been prepared and will be issued after the cabinet meeting and then be communicated to the leaders of the Mexican factions.

LIVE STOCK

INCREASED SIZE OF LITTERS

Iowa Station Assists Sow Before Breeding With Rapid Increase in Feeding of Protein.

A breeding practice used at the Iowa Agricultural station should be worth remembering by every hog raiser in an alfalfa district, since alfalfa contains a high percentage of protein, almost too much for a single feed. With a view of increasing the number of offspring farrowed at the Iowa station they assist the sow before breeding with a rapid increase in the feeding of protein, which is called "flushing." This seems to stimulate the production of ova or life germs, which may later be fertilized by the sire, and consequently this tends toward an increase in the size of the litter.

It has been found that where a large amount of protein is fed just before the breeding season that the sows will not only require less services, but more pigs will be farrowed than if scant rations are given. For best results it is well to have the sows on pasture. For best results also flushing should commence about ten days before breeding, or a little sooner. It is also necessary to have a boar of strong constitution in order that sufficient ova be fertilized. Tankage, meat meal, skim milk and such foods are used in supplying protein.

BEST FEEDS FOR FATTENING

Better to Grind Grain and Feed in Form of Thick Slop Than to Feed It Alone.

It generally is estimated that rye has a feeding value about 10 per cent lower than that of corn when fed to fattening hogs.

It is better to grind the grain and feed it in the form of a thick slop than to feed it whole. The dry meal forms a sticky mass in the hog's mouth that is not relished.

Some feed such as tankage, skim milk or shorts should be fed in connection with the rye.

Rye is lacking in protein and does not give the best results when fed alone. It also will be a good plan to feed some corn in connection with the rye if the corn can be obtained at a reasonable price.

writes Harlow D. Burnside of Ekaka, Mont., in Popular Mechanics. After half an hour useless work one of the cowboys suggested that we tie a rope around the animal's rump and pull on that as well as on the halter rope. This we did, and it worked to perfection, proving a great help in future work of this kind.

GREAT VALUE OF PUMPKINS

Vegetable Has Cooling Influence on Animal's System and Keeps Stomach in Good Condition.

Great value is obtained from pumpkins fed to hogs along with corn from the corrective influences which they exercise upon the digestive system.

They have a cooling influence on the pig's system and keep his stomach and bowels in perfect condition while he is being fed a large amount of corn during the finishing process and consequently he is less subject to ailments at that critical time.

But the seeds of pumpkins are so exceedingly rich in protein that the pigs should not have too many of them. Pumpkins are valuable for hogs afflicted with worms.

SHEEP NOTES.

A very little grain, fed regularly, will go a long way in making the flock profitable.

A mixture of oats, wheat bran and linseed meal, scattered in a broad-bottomed trough, should be fed.

The linseed meal will keep the bowels in good condition.

The flockmaster, or owner, must be ever vigilant. He should know his flock so well that the very slightest indisposition will be detected at once.

PUBLIC ROADS

ACTUAL COST OF GOOD ROAD

Various Methods of Financing Road Building and Retiring Debts Discussed by Experts on Subject.

While it is frequently easy for a county to issue bonds and borrow money for improving the local highways, the raising of the money to retire those bonds at maturity is often not so simple. Many counties, in borrowing money for bonds, figure that the amount of money raised represents the total cost of the road, forgetting that the road must be maintained and repaired if, at the end of the term of the bonds, the county is to have anything to show for its investment.

The question of financing county road building is discussed fully in Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 136, entitled "Highway Bonds," which is written by the office of public roads in collaboration with James W. Glover, professor of mathematics and insurance, University of Michigan. In this bulletin the authors discuss fully the various methods of financing road building and retiring debts for road construction, and also deal frankly with the actual total cost of a road during the life of the bonds. On the total cost of a road, the authors cite the following two examples as affording at least a basis for estimating the total minimum cost of a mile of road:

Bituminous macadam: Cost of construction ($10,500) under 5 per cent serial bond with interest for 20 years, $16,012.50. Cost of annual repair and maintenance ($600) for 20 years, $12,000. Total cost for 20 years, $28,012.50.

Brick: Cost of construction ($18,500) under 5 per cent serial bond with interest for 20 years, $26,426.73. Cost of annual repair and maintenance ($300) for 20 years, $6,000. Total cost for 20 years, $32,426.73.

The authors point out that the actual cost of building and maintaining a specific highway can be determined only after the character and volume of traffic and actual wear and tear have been studied for a series of years. The figures quoted above, of course, will not apply to ordinary macadam, gravel or clay roads, but in all these cases the interest on the bonds must be met, and there must be expenditures to maintain them in condition. The poorer the drainage and the less permanent the character of the road foundation, the greater must be the percentage that repair costs will bear to the first cost. Similarly, the question of whether the actual surfacing is designed to withstand the character of traffic and weather to which it is subjected also has an important bearing on what it will cost the county to keep the road in such shape that when the bonds are paid the locality still will have a valuable property to show as a result of its borrowing and repayment.

Most Helpful Signs.

One of the most helpful signs of the present time is the attitude of the farmer and the business man towards greater permanency in building and improvements. This is seen in road building, in the very widespread use of concrete on the farm and in the tendency towards fireproof buildings in all of the small cities. Truly there are some places where concrete can be used to good advantage on your farm.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER MACHINES

For Your Use—This
IHC Mogul Oil Engine

Of all the satisfactory machines that are built for the use of farmers and contractors, this IHC Mogul oil engine is certainly one of the best. Steady as a clock, ready and willing to do its work whenever there is work to do—it is getting a reputation which might be envied by any man.

This engine has the long cylinder and piston, the large bearings and heavy crank shaft, the heavy fly wheels and split hubs, the well designed base, and all the accessories that the engine user expects to find in an IHC engine. In looks it is the aristocrat of the engine world, and its performance is in every way equal to its looks. This is the engine to buy, because of its low cost per year of service.

We have a demonstrating engine on the floor here which you should see. Until you see it, and see it at work, you cannot know as much as you should about oil engines.

Era of the First Trousers.

The first trousers worn in London were of plain, light colored cloth, and fitted very tightly; almost as tight, we may believe, as those in this country a generation ago. In the second season striped and other figured cloths were used by some, but such trousers were regarded as quite plebeian, and fit for wearing only in bad weather, when the streets were muddy, or as a sort of rough outing garb at the seaside. A favorite material for trousers worn by men of fashion was an elastic stockinet, which fitted literally "skin tight." Beneath such garments, to supply the deficiencies of nature, men were not averse to wearing false calves and other padding on their legs. Straps passing beneath the foot were used to keep the trouser legs held down in place.

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild laxative. Doan's Regulets are recommended for this purpose. 25c a box at all drug stores.

CHOOSING A GOOD STALLION

Progressive Farmer Confronted With Difficult Problem—Feet and Legs Are Essentials.

(By J. S. MONTGOMERY, Minnesota Experiment Station.)

In the spring season the progressive farmer who keeps brood mares is confronted with the problem of choosing a stallion to which to breed. In many cases it is merely a question of eliminating the worst, as there are many communities that are not supplied with a good stallion. In many other cases, however, the saving of five dollars on a service fee plays an all too important part. A saving of five dollars on a service fee often means a loss of $100 or more when the colt is two years old.

When looking at a stallion it is well to ask yourself, "How much would he be worth as a gelding? If his colts are like him, will they be good market geldings? How much improvement will he make when bred to the average farm mares?" The answer to these questions will decide whether the horse is a suitable sire or not. In answering them it should be kept in mind that good feet and legs are the first essential of a marketable horse. If the stallion does not have them he cannot be expected to produce them in his offspring.

Inspectors Sent Out by Kentucky Board to Trace the Source of It.

Louisville, Ky., May 28.—Nine inspectors were sent out today by the Kentucky live stock sanitary board to trace the source of the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease discovered in a shipment of Kentucky live stock to Pennsylvania. The inspectors will visit counties in southern Kentucky and northern counties of Middle Tennessee. Sheep owners interviewed today said the quarantine against Kentucky by Pennsylvania would prevent their selling wool in the east, and that their loss by reason of this would amount to $1,000,000.

MEADOW LARK EATS MANY FARM PESTS

Meadow Lark (Sturnella Magna.)

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

May is the month when the meadow lark does some of its best work in aiding the farmer, for that is when the cutworms begin their career, and this little bird devours them by thousands. It also eats many caterpillars, and in the same month these creatures form over 24 per cent of its whole diet. Caterpillars which are ground feeders are often overlooked by birds which habitually frequent trees, but they do not escape the meadow lark. Ants, wasps, spiders, and chinch bugs are other harmful pests eaten by this feathered friend of humanity.

In 1,514 stomachs of the meadow lark examined, animal food (practically all insects) constituted 74 per cent of the contents and vegetable matter 26 per cent. As would naturally be supposed, the insects were ground species, as beetles, bugs, grasshoppers and caterpillars, with a few flies and wasps and spiders. A number of the stomachs were collected when the ground was covered with snow, but even these contained a large percentage of insects, showing the bird's skill in finding proper food under adverse circumstances.

Of the various insects eaten, crickets and grasshoppers are the most important, constituting 26 per cent of the food of the year and 72 per cent of the food in August. It is scarcely necessary to mention the beneficial effect of a number of these birds on a field of grass in the height of the grasshopper season. Of the 1,514 stomachs collected at all seasons of the year, 778, or more than half, contained remains of grasshoppers, and one was filled with fragments of 37 of these insects. This seems to show conclusively that grasshoppers are preferred, and are eaten whenever they can be found. Especially notable is the great number taken in August, the month when grasshoppers reach their maximum abundance.

Next to grasshoppers, beetles make up the most important item of the meadow lark's food, amounting to 25 per cent, about one-half of which are predaceous ground beetles. The others are of harmful species.

Forty-two individuals of different kinds of May beetles were found in the stomachs of meadow larks, and there were probably many more which were past recognition. To this form and several closely allied ones belong the numerous white grubs, which are among the worst enemies to many cultivated crops, notably grasses and grains, and to a less extent strawberries and garden vegetables. In the larval stage they eat the roots of these plants, and being large, one individual may destroy several plants. In the adult stage they feed upon the foliage of trees and other plants, and in this way add to the damage which they began in the earlier form. As these enemies of husbandry are not easily destroyed by man, it is obviously wise to encourage their natural foes.

Among the weevils found in the stomachs the most important economically are the cotton-boll weevil and the recently introduced alfalfa weevil of Utah. Several hundred meadow larks were taken in the cotton-growing region, and the boll weevil was found in 25 stomachs of the eastern meadow lark and in 15 of the western species. Of the former, one stomach contained 27 individuals. Of 23 stomachs of western meadow larks taken in alfalfa fields of Utah, 15 contained the alfalfa weevil.

The vegetable food consists of grain and weed and other hard seeds. Grain in general amounts to 11 per cent and weed and other seeds to seven per cent. Grain, principally corn, is eaten mostly in winter and early spring and consists, therefore, of water kernels; only a trifle is consumed in summer and autumn when it is most plentiful. No trace of sprouting grain was discovered. Clover seed was found in only six stomachs, and but little in corn. Seeds of weeds, principally rag-weed, barnyard grass, and smartweed, are eaten from November to April, inclusive, but during the rest of the year are replaced by insects.

Briefly stated more than half of the meadow lark's food consists of harmful insects; its vegetable food is composed either of noxious weeds or waste grain, and the remainder is made up of useful beetles or neutral insects and spiders. A strong point in the bird's favor is that, although naturally an insect eater, it is able to subsist on vegetable food, and consequently is not forced to migrate in cold weather farther than is necessary to find grounds free from snow.

The eastern meadow lark is a common and well-known bird, occurring from the Atlantic coast to the great plains, where it gives way to the closely-related western species, which extends thence westward to the Pacific. It winters from our southern border as far north as the District of Columbia, southern Illinois, and occasionally Iowa. The western form winters somewhat farther north. Although it is a bird of the plains, and finds its most congenial haunts in the prairies of the West, it is at home wherever there is level or undulating land covered with grass or weeds, with plenty of water at hand.

"Some Common Birds Useful to the Farmer" is a new Farmers' Bulletin (No. 630) of the United States department of agriculture, which describes this and other interesting and valuable birds.

FOREIGN BODIES AND CATTLE

More Care Should Be Taken to See That Animals Do Not Eat Nails and Pieces of Wire.

(By I. E. NEWSOM, Colorado Agricultural College.)

The average person does not seem to realize how many good cattle die from foreign bodies such as nails and pieces of wire that pass from the second stomach forward in the heart sac. More cattle, particularly those which are kept up around the cities, pick up foreign bodies in their food and these are nearly always deposited in the second stomach. This stomach lies just back of the diaphragm, whereas the heart lies just in front and on the opposite side of this partition. Consequently, if one of these sharp bodies starts forward, owing to the movements of the stomach, it is very apt to pierce the heart sac. This carries infection and the heart sac fills with pus; finally after some weeks or even months the animal shows symptoms of disease and dies, even without the owner knowing the real cause of the difficulty.

Prevention is not easy, but more care should be taken to see that the cattle do not eat out of the mangers or in feed lots where there are many nails and pieces of wire. It is not at all uncommon to find twenty-five or thirty nails in the stomach of a cow.

FOR SUCCESS WITH TURKEYS

Young Poults Should Be Penned Up for First Week or Two—Give Old Ones Free Range.

There is no doubt but grown turkeys must have free range to make any success with them, but I believe that the young poults should be penned up for the first week or so, as the mother turkey hen always starts out too early in the morning, when the dew gives the young ones a chill and as a consequence many of the poults are lost.

So many advocate "there's nothing like giving the turkeys free range with their poults." This may be entirely all right in a dry season, but the morning dew and sudden rain showers are apt to catch you any time and a number in my vicinity lost over half of their free-range poults last year on account of the sudden rains and heavy dew during the hatching season.

FISH GATHER IN MILLIONS WOMEN HONORED FOR VALOR

Remarkable Schools of Herrings That Annually Assemble on the North Pacific Coast.

Every summer there is a remarkable run of herring on the north Pacific coast. These fish come in such shoals that they seem a solid moving mass. They crowd into the inlets and sheltered bays and can be taken in millions by the simplest means.

Men and boys on the Grand Trunk Pacific dock at Prince Rupert use waste paper baskets, and similar utensils, which, with rope attached are thrown into the water and allowed to sink below the surface, then hauled in again full of overflowing with lovely herring.

But a better idea of the density of these schools of fish is afforded by the fact that fishing lines with hook attached can be sunk in the water, and pulled out instantly with just as many fish as there are hooks, be there a dozen or fifty.

Tons of these herring are taken by the fish companies and frozen in boxes for use as bait for the halibut fisheries. They are an excellent table fish, and there ought to be a profitable market for them in the interior. As yet comparatively few of them are shipped, though dealers are now calling for them.

Fishermen say the herrings seek the bays to escape the whales, which prey on them in certain localities during their migrations.

Working a Ship to Death.

A curious instance of a craft being worked to death is reported from Baltimore, where the schooner Johnnie Green was seized for claims by the crew. There was due the six men the sum of $193.30, which under normal conditions might be raised by a mortgage on the boat. "But she's got enough mortgages on her now to sink her," said Captain White, "and I could not borrow another cent. There's $700 or $800 lent on her already." When told that the Johnnie Green was forty-two years old, and had been in the bay service all of that time, Marshal Stockham was ready to believe that no more money could be borrowed on her. He ordered her taken in charge and a watchman put aboard. —Nautical Gazette.

TO SERVE WITH LUNCH

SUGGESTIONS FOR DISHES EASY TO COMPOUND.

Will Frequently Be Found Valuable In Emergencies That All Housewives Experience—Piquant Suggestions From France.

Hors d'oeuvres are an essential part of the French dejeuner, but here they are not often served at the family luncheon. They are often convenient, however, to eke out and give a little appetizer to a luncheon that might otherwise be scanty, and a few good ideas for hors d'oeuvres and savories are valuable for the housewife. Here are a few sample recipes that can be made and worked into a luncheon at the last moment:

Deviled Sardines.—Take sardines, wash them in their own oil, add a little lemon juice, season lightly with salt, pepper and English sauce, serve very hot on small rounds of toast.

Savory Toast.—Chop very finely, or run through a meat chopper, any pieces of cold chicken, beef, ham or tongue. Pound to a paste with the yolks of two hard boiled eggs, a piece of butter, pepper, salt, a little Chutney and Worcestershire. Spread rather thickly on thin strips of toast and set in the oven to heat.

Cheese Canapes.—Cut bread into pieces one-half an inch thick, then stamp them into circles with a biscuit cutter. Sauté the bread in a little butter until it is of an amber color on both sides. Cover the slices with a thick layer of grated cheese, sprinkle with salt, pepper and a dash of cayenne. Fifteen minutes before the time to serve place them in the oven for a few minutes to soften the cheese.

Anchovy Canapes.—Spread strips of fried bread with a thin layer of anchovy paste. Sprinkle over the top alternate rows of the white and yolks of hard boiled eggs chopped very fine. Sardine canapes are made by pounding the sardines to a paste, spreading it on strips of fried bread and sprinkling the top with some sort of chopped pickle.

Stuffed Eggs.—Cut hard boiled eggs in halves. Take out the yolks carefully and mix them with an equal quantity of softened bread crumbs; season lightly with a little butter, salt and pepper. Moisten with any sauce; add a little raw egg. Fill the whites from which the yolks were taken, round off the tops smoothly, slice a small piece off the bottom, so that the eggs will stand upright, and serve. Any flavoring or seasoning that is liked may be added to the mixture for stuffing eggs—mayonnaise, mustard, mushroom, tomato, or they may be mixed with French dressing.

HORSES AND MULES IN THE COTTON BELT

Champion Belgian Stallion.

(Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

The destruction of horses in the countries now at war is enormous, and when peace is declared and for many years thereafter there will no doubt be a great demand for horses for agricultural and other work. The farmer who has surplus horses at that time will be in a position to obtain good prices.

The United States department of agriculture has recently distributed throughout the cotton belt information regarding horse and mule raising in the South, which should be of use to cotton growers whose crop has been affected by the present crisis, and who now wish to diversify their farming because of this. These farmers are advised particularly to keep their best mares to work on the farm and raise colts at the same time. They will then be able to raise horses for their own work as well as to take advantage of the home and foreign markets.

Many brood mares are overworked, while many others are kept too closely confined. The mare may be safely worked to within two weeks of foaling if good care is used to see that she is not overworked or injured in some other way. It is not unusual for mares which have been worked to the date of foaling to foal successfully. It minous hays, if of a good quality, such as alfalfa clover, and cowpea hay, are good for the foal. As the foal becomes older a more liberal grain ration should be provided. A yearling foal, to grow properly, will need four or five pounds of grain per day in addition to what hay will be eaten.

There is no single factor in agricultural production on the average farm that is of greater importance than good horse or mule power. This power can usually be furnished more cheaply by the production of needed animals in that particular locality than by purchasing them from remote localities. In home production there is also the added advantage of possessing animals which are thoroughly acclimatized. Therefore if you are the owner of a good mare do not fail to breed her either to a good stallion or a good jack.

If the mare is of the light type, breed her to a good stallion of one of the light breeds; and if of a draft type, breed her to a draft stallion. The progeny of a light mare bred to a light stallion or of a draft mare to a light stallion is usually a nondescript that is not fitted to any particular field and will not command the price of either a high-class light or a high-class draft horse. By the light type is meant horses of the Standardbred, Thoroughbred, American Saddle, and similar breeds; by the draft type is meant horses of the Percheron, Belgian, Sibre, Clydesdale and similar breeds. In breeding to a jack, mares of almost any kind may be used if sound, the best mules, as a rule, being produced from the mares with the most weight and finish. The production of inferior animals of any kind is seldom profitable.

WATER GLASS AND ITS USE

Solution of Sodium Silicate Is Excellent for Preservation of Eggs—Liquid Form Best.

(By CHARLES E. FRANCIS, Oklahoma Experiment Station.)

The chemical name for water glass is sodium silicate or silicate of soda. It may be obtained in a granular or powdered form and as it is somewhat difficult to get into solution I would advise the liquid form which may be obtained for about fifty cents a gallon.

This is a strong solution, 40-42 degrees, about the consistency of molasses.

The following formula may be used for preserving eggs: To ten quarts of water which has been boiled and cooled add one pint of water glass and stir thoroughly.

Place the solution in a jar or tub and add the fresh eggs in sufficient quantity to have at least two inches of the solution above the eggs. This quantity should be sufficient for about five dozen eggs.

Water glass may be bought from any of the large drug firms.

REDUCE THE COTTON ACREAGE

Everybody Should Raise All the Hay Corn, Forage Crops and Garden Truck Needed by Family.

There is one easy, simple and effective way to reduce the cotton acreage—everybody plant enough land to raise all their hay, corn, forage crops and garden truck. Keep enough chickens and hogs to supply the table with eggs and meat, also raise and fatten one or more beef animals. With a few or many acres devoted to these crops there will be less acres to plant in cotton and less need of it, for the family living is largely provided for.

There will be several million bales of cotton to carry over, and if the usual acreage is planted the price of cotton will continue low and the cost of living high. Let the South raise her own food supplies and the cotton problem will be solved.

Select Good Seed.

Twelve ears of corn will plant an acre. If one of the planted ears be "no good," there is a twelfth of an acre missing.

Princess

The Mutual Masterpiece Enoch Arden, a beautiful film of the celebrated poem by Tennyson, will be seen at the Princess today, with three popular stars, Lillian Gish, Alfred Paget and Wallace Reid.

"Long lines of cliff breaking have left a chasm;
And in the chasm are foam and yellow sand;"
Here on this beach a hundred years ago,
Three children of three houses,
Annie Lee,
The prettiest little damsel in the port,
And Philip Ray, the miller's only son,
And Enoch Arden, a rough sailor lad,
Played among the waste and lumber of the shore."

WALLACE REID IN ENOCH ARDEN.
Four-part Mutual Masterpicture.
Produced by Majestic.

Thus began the friendship of these playmates, which grew stronger with the coming years. When Enoch and Annie were married, Philip remained the loyal friend of both, even after the news came that Enoch was lost at sea. For ten years Annie mourned her husband, then listened to Philip's pleading and wed him for her children's sake. When Enoch finally returned—for he had been shipwrecked upon a lonely island—he too was loyal to his wife and friend and Annie never knew. And a year later alone—but not forgotten—he passed to his reward.

Handicap Winner.

Harry Payne Whitney's 7-year-old gelding, Borrow, leased to L. S. Thompson, carrying 126 pounds, won the Kentucky Handicap at a mile and a quarter at Douglas Park over a heavy, holding track. Hodge was second and Prince Hermis third. Net value of the stake to the winner was $11,700. The time was 2:10 2-5.

WONDERFUL CITY OF LONDON

Properly Speaking, There Are Five or More "Cities" Contained in the Great Metropolis.

London the goal of conquest of which the captain of every Zeppelin, every U boat and every other Teuton, has set his heart and eyes, is truly the hub of an empire whose center for its very bigness never ceases to attract the attention of the lover of numbers. But which of the five or more Londons do you mean? That inner London, which has one of the oldest courts of law in the world, is the city of London, whose population is diminishing. It has now less than 20,000 people. Outside of it is ecclesiastical London, diocesan London, so to speak, over which the bishop rules. Then comes the county of London, which has 4,521,685 people in it, against the total of 3,814,827 persons in the boroughs. In the next outer limit, the original court district, there are 6,610,631 souls. That makes four concentric Londons whose radius is gathered at Charing Cross. But out and beyond that lie those rapidly growing suburban units whose location the inner London has not only overtaken but is helping to fill up with astonishing rapidity. Greater London has an area of 699 square miles and a radius of 15 miles. This outer rim has 2,730,002 persons, making, with those within, a grand total of 7,251,683.—Wall Street Journal.

The Boy Who Dreams.

It is a good thing for the farmer boy to have an imagination, says the Prairie Farmer. It is a good thing for him to "dream dreams and see visions." It takes a dreamer to see the transformation that intelligent effort will bring to pass on the old place. It takes a dreamer to see how much more desirable that place will be in ten years than a job in a dry goods store.—Emporia Gazette.

HOW THE SWINE MAKE GAINS

Importance of Pushing Hogs From Start Is Emphasized by Data Gathered at Wisconsin.

Young animals make more pounds of gain from their food than when older. Dean Henry of Wisconsin gathered a lot of data on this and found that 38-pound pigs required 239 pounds of feed to make 100 pounds of gain, 78-pound pigs required 400 pounds of feed, 128-pound pigs 437 pounds of feed, 174-pound pigs 462 pounds, 226-pound pigs 498 pounds, 271-pound pigs 511 pounds and for the 330-pound hogs it took 535 pounds of food to make the 100 pounds of gain, or nearly twice as much as for the 38-pound pigs.

This emphasizes the importance of pushing the hogs from the start in order to make the most economical gains.

It has been found at the North Dakota experiment station that April pigs can be made to weigh 200 to 250 pounds by November 1.

RAISING MOTHERLESS LAMBS

Common Practice to Use Cow's Milk, Feeding From Bottle With Suitable Rubber Nipple.

Motherless lambs can be and commonly are, raised on cow's milk, fed from a bottle with rubber nipple—not from a pail, as are calves. Feed them about half a pint of milk or perhaps a little less, three times a day at first, increasing gradually. Warm the milk to a blood heat before feeding.

After a little time they can get some good from grass and skim milk can be substituted for whole milk.

Babies are sometimes raised on condensed milk and probably it could be used instead of fresh milk for lambs, but from the standpoint of both expense and results fresh milk is likely to give better satisfaction.

FARM ANIMALS

SHEEP KILL HARMFUL WEEDS

Generally Agreed Animals Eat All But Few of the Exceptionally Un-palatable Varieties.

(By H. L. SHAW)

It has been estimated that sheep will eat 60 per cent of all troublesome weeds. They are, in fact, commonly used in cleaning up weeds from fields, fence rows, road sides, stubble fields, and corn fields. The common belief among farmers is that weeds eaten by sheep are so broken up in the digestive processes that the seeds will not germinate after passing through the body as in the case of other live stock. However, weeds are rarely permitted to go to seed if enough sheep are turned in this field while the weeds are young and tender.

In some investigations carried on by the Canadian government among a considerable number of sheepmen to determine the kinds of weeds eaten by sheep, it was generally agreed that sheep would consume all but a few exceptionally unpalatable ones, such as mullein, Scotch thistle, etc.

Where sheep have been kept, but where for some reason they have been disposed of, a striking difference has usually occurred in the appearance of the farm. Weeds have sprung up and grown where they had formerly been kept in check. There is no better solution to the weed problem than a flock of sheep.

In economy of production sheep are not surpassed by any other domestic animal. Besides converting waste products into nutritious food they will also manufacture a finished product out of the roughage and grain of the farm at least as cheaply as other classes of live stock.

GOOD POINTS OF SHROPSHIRE

Ewes Are Excellent Mothers, Are Gentle and Easily Handled—Lamb Is Favorite in Market.

Mr. Herbert E. Powell, Ionia, Mich., in a letter to Farm Home gives the following reasons for his preference for the Shropshire breed of sheep.

1. The Shropshire ewes are good mothers under adverse conditions and make friends of their keepers.

2. The Shropshires are the leading attractions at the fairs in the sheep department both as to numbers and price fitting. The Shropshire when properly cared for makes a fine picture and is a work of art either in pasture or the show ring.

3. The Shropshire is gentle, easily handled and a pet with the man fit to care for sheep, and a great contrast to the wild Merino.

4. The Shropshire lamb is the leading favorite in the market, and sells at the best advantage as soon as it is large enough to dress well. The bigger the lambs the better they sell, provided they were well fattened. The Imported Shropshires on Pasture.

Shropshire lamb not only grows large,
but gets ripe easily, and the carcass makes a fine appearance when ready for the market.

5. The percentage of lambs to a flock number of ewes is much larger with the Shropshire than with other mutton breeds. The Shropshire outnumbers all the other mutton breeds combined, and is the all around favorite breed of sheep.

Wherever you show Shropshires you are sure to find a large class and hot competition. The larger and better the show, the more honor there is in winning.

Remedy for Scratches.

When scratches develop, wash and dry the leg perfectly, and then do not wash again, but every three days saturate the skin of the affected parts with a mixture of half an ounce of sulphur and one pint of sweet oil or castor oil. Work or abundantly exercise the horse every day. Do not clip the legs. See that the stable is kept clean and well ventilated. Feed horse lightly and keep his bowels active.

Keep the Little Pigs In.

Do not educate the little pigs to be fence crawlers and breakers by having a fence they can get through if they try. Fix all the fences in good shape before the pigs are old enough to get the habit.

Pains All Over.

Houston, Tex.—"For five years," says Mrs. L. Fulencheck, of this city, pecially in my back and side, and was so weak I could hardly do my house

Since taking it, I feel so much better. Now I can do all my housework and pains don't bother me any more at all." Cardui is a strength-building medicine. Fifty years of success

ROAD BUILDING

MACHINE FOR ROAD BUILDING

Useful for Applying Hot Bituminous Binder Under Pressure, Filling Spaces Between Stones.

A recent addition to road building equipment is a gasoline driven machine used for applying the hot bituminous binder under pressure so that it will penetrate and fill the spaces between the stones, says Popular Mechanics. After the first course of stone is laid this machine is run over the roads, discharging the bituminous binder through a series of vertical pipes at the forward end. As soon as the binder has hardened, a second course of stone is laid and rolled, the rolling forcing the two courses into one compact layer. The binder is then applied a second time, and the pro-

Road Building Machine.

cess is repeated until the road is completed. This process makes it possible to build a compact road with no openings into which water can penetrate. The bituminous binder is carried in the large tank, which has a capacity of 750 gallons. It is heated by steam coils in the tank, the steam being supplied by a flash boiler which is fired by fuel oil. Steam supplied by this boiler is also used for running an air compressor by which the binder is forced into the spaces between the stones.

ROUGH ROADS HURT SCHOOLS

Communities Having Advantage of Improved Highways Can Afford to Build Better Buildings.

That good roads materially affect the county school system has been repeatedly demonstrated. In states where the roads are kept up well the attendance at school is 80 per cent as against 64 per cent in states where the roads are neglected and are in bad condition. Improved roads make it possible to consolidate or centralize the schools and to establish graded schools in the rural districts. Such schools centrally located will accommodate all of the children within a radius of from four to five miles. In many communities having the advantage of good roads, commodious buildings have been provided, more competent teachers have been employed and modern facilities for teaching have been supplied at a minimum cost.
There are about two thousand consolidated rural schools in the United States, and it is significant to note that the states that have made the greatest progress in the building and maintenance of good roads have the largest schools. No community can afford not to have good roads and where a few enterprising citizens will take the lead the results can be realized.

TREES ALONG THE ROADSIDES

Many Organizations Have Promised
Their Aid to Provide Free Fruit for the Weary Traveler.

Fresh fruit plucked from roadside trees is a pleasure travelers will be able to enjoy several years hence, when they stop for lunch in some shady nook.

In many communities civic associations, farmers' organizations and horticultural societies have promised their aid to provide free roadside fruit for the traveler.

This very pleasant idea was originated by a southern Missouri nursery, which has placed 50,000 apple, peach, pear, plum and cherry trees along the side of the Missouri section of the National Old Trails highway. The fruit will be free to transcontinental motorists.

Help by Using Drag.

Individual farmers can materially help the good roads cause by rigging up a road drag and using it on roads adjacent to the farm when the ground is sufficiently moist.

Harm by Bad Roads.

Muddy roads always add to the distance to market and cut the profits on produce.

Regularity in Feeding.

It is equally as bad to overfeed as it is to underfeed poultry. There should be regular hours for feeding, and never a feast today and a famine tomorrow be allowed. Avoid too much carbonaceous food. Carbon is oil, fat, starch, sugar, etc.—carbonaceous material.

lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discern them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and this "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

Slavery Originated in the East.

Absolute slavery seems to have appeared in the eastern colonies somewhat earlier than in the southern, for slavery existed in New York in 1628, in New Jersey in 1628, in Massachusetts in 1630, in Connecticut in 1631 and in Delaware in 1633. There was a statutory recognition of slavery in Massachusetts in 1641, which was considerably ahead of such recognition of slavery in Virginia or Maryland.

EASY TO ASCERTAIN DEPTHS

Alexander Graham Bell Has Scheme Which May Be Made Use of in the Future.

Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor, told a class of young students at Washington recently about putting his head under water and striking two stones together beneath the surface. "It sounded as if a man were hammering for all he was worth at my very ear."

Next, he sent a boy a mile away to strike the stones, and "the signals came perfectly clear and distinct."

In these little facts, and the other fact that sound goes over 5,000 feet a second through water to its 1,000 feet through air, lay for somebody the germ of the submarine bell signals used on ships.

Now, in exploring the earth's surface as it lies under deep waters, a great deal of time and labor is expended merely in ascertaining the depth.

"Why," asks Professor Bell, as reported in the National Geographical magazine, "should we not send down a sound instead and listen for an echo from the bottom?"—thus accomplishing in four seconds a work now taking sometimes more than four hours.

And we should learn by the shorter method something of the nature of things below. "A flat bottom should yield a single sharp return, whereas an undulating bottom should yield a multiple echo, like that heard when you fire a pistol among hills."

Seven thousand women practice medicine in the United States.

Couldn't Stand Everything.

During a case in which the plaintiff claimed damages from a railway company on account of severe bodily injuries, the company's lawyer was examining the plaintiff. After awhile the latter became irritated and said: "Mr. C., I cannot allow you to question me in this manner. I am an invalid on account of the injury received on the railway. It has affected my spinal cord, and at this minute I can see you double. You know, Mr. C., it is generally enough to upset a man to see you once."

TERRY COAL & COKE COMPANY PROPERTY SOLD

NOTICE is hereby given to the Stockholders, Bond Holders and Creditors of the TERRY COAL & COKE COMPANY, that an Extension Sale Contract of its MINES and PROPERTY at MANINGTON, KY., was made on the 30th day of March 1915. The property is to be paid for in CASH, on or before the 10th day of August 1915. Under the Contract entered into with the purchaser, all Stockholders are protected for 20 years, with a special contract whereby they can buy their Coal at the mines, under the same terms, and at the same price, given them under their Stockholders Contract with the TERRY COAL & COKE COMPANY, carrying out the Order made at the last general Stockholders Meeting, by unanimous vote of the Stockholders and Bond Holders of the Company, authorizing, and directing the Officers of the Company to make sale of the property of the Company at as early date as possible, and settle up the business affairs of the Company. The Purchasers have furnished the money since that date with which to employ a competent man to keep the water pumped out of the Mines and take care of the Machinery at the mines, and are under contract to do so up to and including the month of August 1915, covering the time they are to take over the property and pay for it.

The price for which the property is contracted is sufficient to pay the Bond Holders in full, and effect a settlement with the creditors upon terms and conditions already entered into with Attorneys of the company by all the principal creditors of the Company. If the above sale contract is consummated it is the best one we have ever been able to make for the Property, and we trust will be satisfactory to all concerned.

Yours respectfully,
TERRY COAL & COKE COMPANY,
Incorporated.

REALLY WAS NO MYSTERY

Seeming Puzzle of Two Sunsets in Two Minutes Easily Explained After a Little Thought.

A rambler was reading an incident that had been no part of his planning for that particular trip: "It was like one of those moments the neurasthenic knows when he doubts the testimony of his senses and trembles with the fear that at last his mind is giving way. But the twain behind me exclaimed together at the phenomenon, and I breathed easily once more."

"Leaving Tarrytown toward five o'clock on a perfect afternoon, I settled back comfortably to enjoy the setting of the sun as it traveled with what seemed undue haste toward a high peak of the Highlands. Then, as if at a signal, it dropped behind the peak, leaving a dull brazen trail of its glory. I shut my eyes, a little disappointed at so hurried a closing of one of those days when it seems good to be alive."

"As the train jolted out of Grey-stone I blinked and beheld in upsetting wonderment the sun again going down, this time goldenly, slowly, with a fitting majesty of motion. Lower and still lower it sank, until there was visible only a lovely field of many-toned amber."

"But two sunsets?"
"The difference in altitude of the cliff lowers at various points is the explanation."

SUITABLE FOR HUMAN FOOD

Nourishing Plants and Even Insects Capable of Sustaining Life, at a Pinch.

According to some reports great ingenuity in the use of scientific knowledge in extracting food values from unusual sources is being employed. The Baltimore Star states. There are many articles good for human food and wholesome food at that, which under ordinary conditions are not drawn upon at all. There are the angle worm, the grasshopper and fully a score of plants not ordinarily used as food which, properly prepared, constitute nourishing foods. It is perhaps only the most desperate and resolute sort of appetite that would stand for the earth worm, but they have been eaten even by highly civilized people and when properly prepared are said to be not so bad. Why should we be squeamish about the angle worm when we eat the oyster, stomach, lungs and everything but the shell?

As to grasshoppers they were an ancient delicacy and are yet so regarded by many races who know what's what in the way of good things to eat. All the grasses that are eaten by animals have nourishing juices. Clover and green timothy possess a higher food quality than cabbage or potatoes. Botted to tenderness they would prevent starvation. There have been famine periods when human beings have been obliged to eat field grasses and wild plant roots.

Most disfiguring skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc. are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a cleansing blood tonic, is well recommended. $1.00 at all stores. Advertisement.

AVERITT IN JAIL HERE

Negro Brought From Tennessee To Answer a Murder Charge.

Sheriff Smith returned from Knoxville, Tenn., Sunday night, having in charge Phemie Averitt, col., and the negro was placed in jail to await trial on a charge of the murder of Howard Mimms, col., near Sinking Fork, Dec. 6, last. Averitt was arrested in Knoxville about two weeks ago and he refused to return without requisition from the governor. He was indicted here at the February term of court.

A Negro Hero.

Trenton, Tenn., May 31.—Henry Taylor, a young negro man recently rescued Millie Halford, a 12-year-old white girl, from drowning in Cane creek near this place, at the risk of his own life. The child had been fishing in the creek, which was very full on account of a heavy rain. She attempted to cross on the railroad trestle, when she became overbalanced and fell into the water below, which was later measured and found to be fourteen and one-half feet deep. Taylor, who was on the bridge, realized the danger and at once sprang in to her rescue. After a struggle of some minutes, in which they sank beneath the surface, he succeeded in bringing her to the bank, where another negro, Sid Sharp, assisted in getting her out of the water.

Friends of the negro are taking steps to have him recognized by the Carnegie hero commission.

HELD OVER

On Other Charges, After Being Convicted on One.

Johnie Hicks and Herman Brent, colored, were given 152½ and 22½ days respectively in City court Saturday, and each was held to the grand jury on further charges. It is charged that they attempted to take some whiskey from John Hanahan's place of business and when Mr. Hanahan caught hold of Hicks the latter cut at him with a knife. It is also charged that later the negroes went to a negro woman's house, and raised a rough house, knocking down two women and cutting a negro man, making a long gash on his head.

BLUE AND GRAY.

Union Veterans Place Flags and Flowers on Soldiers' Graves.

A committee from the local Post of Federal soldiers on Sunday afternoon placed flags on the graves of all deceased Union soldiers buried in Riverside Cemetery. Also upon the graves of Confederate soldiers and soldiers and sailors of the army and navy. Yesterday morning the regular Decoration Day exercises were held and flowers were placed upon the graves of the dead of both armies.

The Confederate Decoration Day is June 3.

Potato and Onion Salad.

Pare and cut potatoes into thin slices, parboil until done but not washed. Drain and pour on a shallow dish. Now take centers of boiled onion rings, mash with a fork, add a sifting of salt and pepper, then mix with enough boiled dressing to make a smooth, rather thick emulsion. Sift salt and pepper over the potatoes, then cover with the dressing and let it stand for an hour to ripen. This is a nice luncheon dish and can be served with rings of hard boiled eggs cured bacon or boiled ham.

Baking Cookies.

If you have difficulty with your cookies, either because they cook too fast on the bottom or are hard to get out of the pan, try using a large dripping pan and placing the cookies on the bottom of the pan rather than in it. Turn the pan upside down, lay a piece of buttered paper or paraffin paper on it and then lay on the cookies. They will cook evenly and there will be no danger of breaking them when taking them off.
